Congratulations! You made it.

Today is the day you join an elite group of University of Arizona ECE alumni. You worked hard to get here, and you deserve the recognition.

ECE is one of the toughest majors on campus – long hours poring over homework, working in the labs, studying for exams, design projects, and running computer program after computer program. You pressed on and overcame all the challenges.

Tamal Bose

Now is the time to look forward and discover new opportunities, no matter how difficult things may seem. Keep following your passion, find your line of work, and make people's lives better. The world is counting on you!

You are among ECE graduates pursuing exciting careers. Our alumni are successful scientists, engineers, explorers and entrepreneurs, working in government and industry and for themselves across the entire spectrum of professions.

So, in a sense, this degree is actually the beginning of your journey. You triumphed academically, and no doubt you will do well professionally. After all, you have an ECE degree, and you are a Wildcat! You may become rich and famous, but ultimately you will be known for how you treat others – for your kindness, humility, and service.

Be sure to thank everyone who has been there for you along the way and show your appreciation for their support and guidance.

We look forward to hearing from you soon, and to keeping in touch in the months and years to come.

Bear Down ECE Wildcats!

ECE MEMORIES

Wildcat Orientation! - Ziwen Pan

Capstone Group at the PING Putter Vault - Eric Lawson

In my senior capstone project, the Tucson Village Farm has asked our team to create a popcorn processor which will wash and dry loads of popcorn kernels. We have installed motors that will help operate the system automatically. As the electrical lead, I wired the conducting cables to a plug that can be plugged into an outlet. Additionally, I installed an emergency shutoff switch to increase safety for the user. I have wired both motors, one for the washer motor and the other for the dryer motor.

Senior Capstone Project! - Richelle Rose Javier

Testing for Senior Design (Project: Baja Electronic Continuously Variable Transmission) - Andre Schreiber

PING Gold Putter Vault - Nathan Wolff

Building electrical system for Senior Design Project - Gerardo Mora Garcia

Undergrad Senior Design Project -

Craig M. Berge Design Day Team #22026. Project: "A Real-Time Vegetation Stress Detection System on a Drone." Winner of 1) Best Implementation of Agile Methodology; 2) Best UAS Design (2nd Prize); and 3) Best Use of Embedded Intelligence - Caiyue Lai
